

Date: January 28, 1985

Author: Jim Gordon

Category: Channeling

January 28, 1985 10:15 - 11:15 am

Page one

#2

Cato - Jesus (Jim's Commitment)

Mike

Revelations - Silent Ones

As we gather together, we call forth the divine spark to come forward and the holy breath of God, the Holy Spirit to fill and surround us, to guide and protect us upon this path that we walk at this time. Lead us upon the path to the eternal joy of living in the presence of God, and let each step we walk lead us ever forward in our preparation toward at onement and liftment into the spiritual planes of ourselves and in the path of service, may we unfold into the glories that are. Come oh divine spark at this time. Express through the words the desires, lift the motivations to a higher level of service, and let the greater good come forward for each and everyone upon the planet.

Greetings to you this morning. It was a busy night for many of you. A few of you have recollections of the activities that took place during the night. And for others, it lies in the subconscious, yet to come forward. Often times it is important to remember that there is a lot of activity that takes place through the night, during your sleep state. It is not necessary for you to remember clearly. We recommend, however, that you begin asking each night before going to bed that whatever needs to come forth in your consciousness upon awakening, to do so. Tell yourself that you want to remember those activities for your own upliftment. And if you program yourself in such a way, the memories will become more clear and the activities will be more real and less symbolic. At first, there will be many symbols and you will have to break those symbols to understand them clearly. But in time the recollections will be as remembering yesterday and those activities. They were very real, but now they are a memory. And so too, as you wake up, the remembrances will be there of the very real activity you had during the night. And so as we enter into this day, we enter with many memories of the past. And now we ask you to release the memories of the past for they are no more. We do not wish to live with those memories. For as we hold onto the past, we hold onto karma and we hold ourselves back from unfolding today. Allow yourselves to live at this moment, at this time, in this breath that you are breathing, and let that be the only thing you know. Let that be the only thing you live. And let each breath unfold into new awarenesses by living within. So release the past now. Concern yourselves not of past lives, of past incidents, of past karmas. Let us move at this time today, to that which we are going to accomplish at this moment, in this day, in this breath of God. And so now I will turn this over to one who has come forward at this time.

Oh children of God, my brothers and sister. It is good to come forward once again and greet you. I am Jesus. I come at this time to give counsel to you in the activities that are unfolding both here within the group and outside this property within the world itself. I come to first give you a few words concerning the unfoldment here within the group. I was unable to come last night because of other things of great importance that I had to attend to. But a call was sent forth yesterday evening, and so I have come. And so as I discuss now in these words of wisdom, I offer you these words with love. But remember this is not a form of dictation. I do not come to rule. I only come to offer. To offer my love, to offer my words of understanding, and of wisdom. But it is up to each of you to take them to heart and to let them come to flower within your own being and your own growth, in your own awareness. And so the statements that are made may ring one note of response within one and ring a totally different note of response in another. And this is good, this is the way it should be. For it is the coming together of all the different notes that the great song of the universe is sent forth. We are the living songs of God. Each of us bringing forth its own note. And as all the notes come together, they form a great harmony of joy, and a song of glory to God. So first let your heart open at this time. To open as a great blooming flower, to the radiant sun, to the radiant light that comes forth from God. And feel the warmth of his love and light as it comes radiating down and encompassing the budding flower. And see the flower beginning to respond to the warmth as it opens and directs its attention to the light. And allow the radiant color of the flower that is in your heart to begin shining forth for all to see. And each day, allow this - great light and warmth of God to open you up and to bring the greater beauty from within out into the outer world to be shared. Just as a flower opens up to share its beauty and its aroma for all, so, too, allow yourself to open up and to share that greater beauty that is you.

At this time now as I withdraw in love and light, I wish to make one other statement. This will in one way answer the question Lloyd had asked concerning the seventh seal. The Book of Revelations is a book of initiation. It is a personal message to each one of us to the levels of unfoldment that we have to go through in our own soul upliftment. And the Book of Revelation tells the story of John the Beloved and his different levels of initiation and unfoldment to the inner God. The seven seals relate to the seven chakras and to the seven lessons, the seven challenges that one must go through in order to break the seal that bonds one to the physical, the emotional and the mental regions of the physical universe. And as these seals are broken, the lessons come forth as a plague times in an individual's life to be learned. So as the seal is broken, the lessons come forward to be learned and as they <sup>are</sup> learned and overcome, the greater glory of God is raised up one more step in the divine pattern of initiation and unfoldment. Re-read the Book of Revelation now with new light of a personal pattern of growth that is laid out before you there. And look at the different levels of heaven that are unfolded in that Book, and the different levels of God that are spoken of there. And a new understanding shall come forward. And in time if you have a question concerning this, we will continue you it further from this discussion. So until then, I will depart. Let me say this. There are questions within the room and I will answer a few. So at this time if you wish to express something...

JEF: Lloyd, you have a question?

LS: I thank you very much for the information. And I do have one question. Is the Book of Revelation not only speaking to us as individuals but also to the Earth as a whole as it goes through the initiations?

A: Just as you are a soul embodiment in the physical form that you have, the Earth itself is a soul and the physical embodiment is the planet. And it, too, goes through an initiation. That is true. And so the Book of Revelation relates to all different levels of unfoldment for all different levels of life. There are levels of group initiation which manifests, as personal initiation. And even countries themselves go through levels of upliftment if not initiation itself. And so the Book of Revelations can be taken on many different levels, in many different ways. From a personal level all the way through the universe, to a universal concept.

LS: And this is toward the path of perfection which in your words of the Bible state being perfect even as your Father in heaven is perfect?

A: This is true. One has to come into full awareness of God and live in that perfection. This means that one's focus must be in God and not in this world. You cannot be concerned with things of this world. You cannot let the desires of this world control you and change your focus back into the lower regions. You must always maintain focus toward God, and that is what will unfold before you. And then you will live in his perfection.

LD: Greetings, dear Brother Jesus. Thank you for coming today. I have a question on another subject, but it is a philosophical question. I don't know if you can answer it, but possibly it could be answered later. The question I have, and I need some clarification on this to erase some doubts that I have, in one of the readings that came through that there was another level over the level of God. I need clarification on this. I feel that I don't understand.

A: There is a region, which is called the Silent Ones. In this region all exist as one. If you are to envision a level in which all energy existed equally in oneness and that the way that the oneness is existed was that there was a flow of consciousness from one point of activity to another and that through the flow of that consciousness oneness was maintained. You would be able to envision the region of the Silent Ones. At one point in time, a level of activity took place that stirred within a point in consciousness where a cell would end the levels of the Silent Ones awoke to the I am an awareness of an individual nature came forward. At that time, in that individual awareness, the energy dropped (if you want to envision it in that manner) and God came into manifestation. The I am. And so the Silent Ones began to learn through self-awareness of I am, the greater glory that exists within. And from there, the I am ~~then~~ went forth, sending forth parts of itself in creation to learn more of who I am is. And by doing this a greater awareness, a greater knowing of self is being accomplished within God. And eventually through the awareness that is obtained in this way, all shall be absorbed back up into the level of the Silent Ones once again. And the level of at-onement in flow of consciousness will be realized in a greater way because a greater knowledge of self would have been realized within the region of the Silent Ones. It is something that is very difficult to put into physical words or emotion or in mental pictures because it is beyond all of these levels. And it is something that you have to be lifted up into to experience to know and understand. This is a very poor explanation but at this time it is the best I can do in giving you a picture and a feeling of what it is. I trust it helps some.

LD: Yes, it does help some. In one picture I have that is why God is ..... that these sparks onto himself for completion in order to go back into the Silent Ones again.

A: That is true. That is very well put.

JEF: Then is God the bridge by which we at this stage may somewhat behold as the avenue to reach ultimately the Silent Ones?

A: Yes, remember that each of you here are expressions of God. Each of you here are God in flesh, learning about self. And it is through the collectiveness of coming together in our awarenesses that God consciousness is manifested on a greater level. And it is through this coming together that eventually God himself will come together in total reality and merge once again into the Silent Ones, and there share on all levels in a flow of consciousness the I am presence, the I am.

JEF: Would the Silent Ones be more particularly defined as the great beginning of creative intelligence?

A: Yes, that would be an expression. At this time let us end here and let us offer this light that has been expressed here at this time unto the father-mother God. We lift all that we do to the greater glory of God. We lift every breath that we take, every word that we speak, every thought that is expressed, every emotion that is felt we lift to the glory of God. May we become shining reflections of his light, his love, and his mercy. And as we lift up into this greater glory let us also remember to reach down to those that have not yet begun the path and help show the way to them as well. And let us reflect the wisdoms that we have obtained out into the world so that they, too, may see God and begin to move forward into the greater light that is. And at this time we call forward all the angelic kingdom to come forward in great light and lift up each of you here into the greater glory that you are. Up unto the great presence of the holy breath within. Be filled with the great glory. Be filled with the peace. Be at joy. Be at peace. Be at one and know the God within as you merge into that at-onement. I shall return.

CATO: At this time, I Cato, wish to close as well. I step down the energy from the level that has been coming forth now in this expression and help begin bringing Jim back into focus once again. And so, I, too, will leave you at this time. But we will return yet this evening for greater discussions. Until then, peace be with you as we are with you.